An accessible and engaging account of the mind and its connection to the brain. The mind encompasses everything we experience, and these experiences are created by the brain--often without our awareness. Experience is private; we can't know the minds of others. But we also don't know what is happening in our own minds. In this book, E. Bruce Goldstein offers an accessible and engaging account of the mind and its connection to the brain. He takes as his starting point two central questions--what is the mind? and what is consciousness?--and leads readers through topics that range from conceptions of the mind in popular culture to the wiring system of the brain. Throughout, he draws on the latest research, explaining its significance and relevance.

This classic readings text is comprised of over six dozen articles, drawings, and photo-essays selected to apply psychology to your development.

These selections explore six themes: identity, human communication, growth dynamics, feelings and emotions, human relationships, and a quality life. The readings present personal growth concepts in a highly personalized and lively manner. More than two-thirds of the readings are new. Each reading encourages personal reflection and/or discussion.

Now updated and revised with more than 600 new research citations, new chapters, and effective new pedagogy, Sensation and Perception, Sixth Edition provides broad, theoretically balanced coverage, along with late-breaking discoveries and new thinking on how we see, hear, taste, smell,
